➤ S772 Pinnacle Trainer

SportsArt's alternative trainer takes the concept one step farther. The results are a better all-around workout with plenty of other benefits too. Like...

Linear and lateral motion provide strengthening for major and minor muscle groups – other alternative trainers have only linear motion.

The self-generated power source is environmentally conscious and economically responsible.

You get a great cardio workout, a more solid core for better balance and then there's those head-turning glutes.

SportsArt's S772 Pinnacle Trainer. Built.

S772 Alternative Trainer

A better workout, not to mention head-turning glutes.

► FEATURES

The S772 features linear AND lateral motion – the only alternative trainer that does both

Combined forward/backward and medial/lateral motion engages both large and small muscle groups and improves core stability and balance

Dual-action motion burns more calories and engages more muscle groups

Cordless, self-generating design requires no external power to operate

Fingertip resistance control with 20 levels of resistance

Closed-chain movement protects joints

Contact and telemetry heart rate

Oversized footplates
